OIL POLLUTION ACT 1986

Received Royal Assent:	14 March 1986
Passed:	18 March 1986
Commenced:	1 May 1986

AN ACT to replace the Oil in Manx Navigable Waters Act 1971; to make new provision for the prevention, etc. of oil pollution; for the implementation of international conventions relating to oil pollution; and for connected purposes.

GENERAL NOTE: The maximum fines in this Act (up to £5,000) are as increased by the Criminal Justice (Penalties, Etc.) Act 1993 s 1.

PART I – GENERAL PROVISIONS FOR PREVENTING OIL POLLUTION

1 Discharge of oil into Manx waters

[P1971/60/2]

- (1) If any oil or mixture containing oil is discharged as mentioned in the following paragraphs into waters to which this section applies, then, subject to the provisions of this Act, the following shall be guilty of an offence —
- (a) if the discharge is from a vessel, the owner, charterer or master of the vessel, unless he proves that the discharge took place and was caused as mentioned in paragraph (b);
  - (b) if the discharge is from a vessel but takes place in the course of a transfer of oil to or from another vessel or a place on land and is caused by the act or omission of any person in charge of any apparatus in that other vessel or that place, the owner, charterer or master of that other vessel or, as the case may be, the occupier of that place;
  - (c) if the discharge is from a place on land, the occupier of that place, unless he proves that the discharge was caused as mentioned in paragraph (d);

- (d) if the discharge is from a place on land and is caused by the act of a person who is in that place without the permission (express or implied) of the occupier, that person;
  - (e) if the discharge takes place otherwise than as mentioned in the preceding paragraphs and is the result of any operations for the exploration of the sea-bed and sub-soil or the exploitation of their natural resources, the person carrying on the operations.
- (2) This section applies to the whole of the sea and any other navigable waters within the seaward limits of the territorial waters of the Island.
- (3) In this Act ‘place on land’ includes a pipeline and anything resting on the bed or shore of the sea and also includes anything afloat (other than a vessel) if it is anchored or attached to the bed or shore of the sea; and ‘occupies’, in relation to any such thing, if it has no occupier, means the owner thereof, and, in relation to a railway wagon or road vehicle, means the person in charge of the wagon or vehicle and not the occupier of the land on which the wagon or vehicle stands.
- (4) A person guilty of an offence under this section shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £50,000 or on conviction on information to a fine.

2 Defences of persons charged with offences under s 1

- (1) Where a person is charged, in respect of the escape of any oil or mixture containing oil, with an offence under section 1 —
- (a) as the occupier of a place on land; or
  - (b) as a person carrying on operations for the exploration of the sea-bed and subsoil or the exploitation of their natural resources; or
  - (c) as the owner of a pipe-line,
- it shall be a defence to prove that neither the escape nor any delay in discovering it was due to any want of reasonable care and that as soon as practicable after it was discovered all reasonable steps were taken for stopping or reducing it.
- (2) Where a person is charged with an offence under section 1 in respect of the discharge of a mixture containing oil from a place on land, it shall also, subject to subsection (3), be a defence to prove —
- (a) that the oil was contained in an effluent produced by operations for the refining of oil;
  - (b) that it was not reasonably practicable to dispose of the effluent otherwise than by discharging it into waters to which that section applies; and
  - (c) that all reasonably practicable steps had been taken for eliminating oil from the effluent.

- (3) If it is proved that, at a time to which the charge relates, the surface of the waters into which the mixture was discharged from the place on land, or land adjacent to those waters, was fouled by oil, subsection (2) shall not apply unless the court is satisfied that the fouling was not caused, or contributed to, by oil contained in any effluent discharged at or before that time from that place.
- (4) Where a person is charged with an offence under section 1 as the owner, charterer or master of a vessel, it shall be a defence to prove that the oil or mixture was discharged for the purpose of securing the safety of any vessel, or of preventing damage to any vessel or cargo, or of saving life, unless the court is satisfied that the discharge of the oil or mixture was not necessary for that purpose or was not a reasonable step to take in the circumstances.
- (5) Where a person is charged with an offence under section 1 it shall also be a defence to prove —
  - (a) that the oil or mixture escaped in consequence of damage to the vessel, and that as soon as practicable after the damage occurred all reasonable steps were taken for preventing, or (if it could not be prevented) for stopping or reducing, the escape of the oil or mixture; or
  - (b) that the oil or mixture escaped by reason of leakage, that neither the leakage nor any delay in discovering it was due to any want of reasonable care, and that as soon as practicable after the escape was discovered all reasonable steps were taken for stopping or reducing it.

3 Protection of acts done in exercise of certain powers

[P1971/60/7]

Where any oil, or mixture containing oil, is discharged in consequence of the exercise by the Department of any power conferred by section 23 of the Harbours Act 2010 (which relates to the removal of obstructions), and apart from this section the Department or a person employed by or acting on behalf of the Department, would be guilty of an offence under section 1 in respect of that discharge, the Department or person shall not be convicted of that offence unless it is shown that it or he failed to take such steps (if any) as were reasonable in the circumstances for preventing, stopping or reducing the discharge.<sup>1</sup>

4 Restrictions on transfer of oil at night

[P1971/60/10]

- (1) No oil shall be transferred between sunset and sunrise to or from a vessel in any harbour in the Island unless the requisite notice has been given in accordance with this section or the transfer is for the purposes of the fire brigade.

- (2) A general notice may be given to the harbour master of a harbour that transfers of oil between sunset and sunrise will be frequently carried out at a place in the harbour within such period, not ending later than twelve months after the date on which the notice is given, as is specified in the notice; and if such a notice is given it shall be the requisite notice for the purposes of this section as regards transfers of oil at that place within the period specified in the notice.
- (3) Subject to subsection (2), the requisite notice for the purposes of this section shall be notice given to the harbour master not less than three hours nor more than ninety-six hours before the transfer of oil begins.
- (4) In the case of a harbour which has no harbour master, references in this section to the harbour master shall be construed as references to the harbour master of Douglas.
- (5) If any oil is transferred to or from a vessel in contravention of this section, the master of the vessel, and, if the oil is transferred from or to a place on land, the occupier of that place, shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £1,000.

5 Duty to report discharge of oil into waters of harbours

[P1971/60/11]

- (1) If any oil or a mixture containing oil —
  - (a) is discharged from a vessel into the waters of a harbour in the Island; or
  - (b) is found to be escaping or to have escaped from a vessel into any such waters; or
  - (c) is found to be escaping or to have escaped into any such waters from a place on land;

the owner, charterer or master of the vessel, or the occupier of the place on land, as the case may be, shall forthwith report the occurrence to the harbour master, or if the harbour has no harbour master, to the harbour master of Douglas.

- (2) A report made under subsection (1) by the owner, charterer or master of a vessel shall state whether the occurrence falls within paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) of that subsection.
- (3) If a person fails to make a report as required by this section he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £5,000.

  - (c) in the opinion of the Department the use of the powers conferred by this section is urgently needed.<sup>3</sup>

  - (b) to the master of the ship; or
  - (c) to any salvor in possession of the ship, or to any person who is the servant or agent of any salvor in possession of the ship, and who is in charge of the salvage operation.<sup>4</sup>
- (3) Directions under subsection (2) may require the person to whom they are given to take, or refrain from taking, any action of any kind whatsoever, and without prejudice to the generality of the preceding provisions of this subsection the directions may require —
  - (a) that the ship is to be, or is not to be, moved, or is to be moved to a specified place, or is to be removed from a specified area or locality; or
  - (b) that the ship is not to be moved to a specified place or area, or over a specified route; or

- (6) Every person concerned with compliance with directions given, or with action taken, under this section shall use his best endeavours to avoid any risk to human life.
- (7) The provisions of this section are without prejudice to any rights or powers of the Government or Her Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom exercisable apart from this section whether under international law or otherwise.
- (8) It is hereby declared that any action taken as respects a ship which is under arrest or as respects the cargo of such a ship, being action duly taken in pursuance of a direction given under this section, or being any action taken under subsection (4) or (5) —
- (a) does not constitute contempt of court; and
  - (b) does not in any circumstances make any person who has arrested such ship in pursuance of an order of the High Court liable in any civil proceedings.
- (9) The powers conferred by subsections (2) and (4) may be exercised in relation to —
- (a) a ship which is not registered in the Island, only whilst such ship is within the seaward limits of the territorial waters of the Island, and
  - (b) a ship which is registered in the Island, whether inside or outside such waters.
- (10) In this section, unless the context otherwise requires —

- ‘specified’, in relation to a direction under this section, means specified by the direction.

7 Right to recover in respect of unreasonable loss or damage

[P1971/60/13]

- (1) If any action duly taken by a person in pursuance of a direction given to him under section 6 or any action taken under subsection (4) or (5) of that section —
  - (a) was not reasonably necessary to prevent or reduce oil pollution, or risk of oil pollution; or
  - (b) was such that the good it did or was likely to do was disproportionately less than the expense incurred, or damage suffered, as a result of the action,a person incurring expense or suffering damage as a result of, or by himself taking, the action shall be entitled to recover compensation from the Department.<sup>7</sup>
- (2) In considering whether subsection (1) applies, account shall be taken of —

  - (b) the likelihood of the action being effective; and
  - (c) the extent of the damage which has been caused by the action.
- (3) Any reference in this section to the taking of any action includes a reference to a compliance with a direction not to take some specified action.

9 Service of directions under s 6

- (2) An order under subsection (1) shall not be made so as to impose different requirements in respect of ships of different countries or territories; but if the Department of Economic Development is satisfied, as respects any country or territory, that ships registered there are required, by the law of that country or territory, to comply with provisions which are substantially the same as, or equally effective with, the requirements imposed by virtue of the order, the Department of Economic Development may by order direct that those requirements shall not apply to any ship registered in that country or territory if the ship complies with such of those provisions as are applicable thereto under the law of that country or territory.<sup>32</sup>
- (3) No regulation shall by virtue of an order under this section apply to any ship as being within a harbour in the Island, or on her way to or from such harbour, if the ship would not have been within the harbour, or, as the case may be, on her way to or from the harbour, but for stress of weather or any other circumstances which neither the master nor the owner nor the charterer (if any) of the ship could have prevented or forestalled.
